Law firm in Milan

Founded in the late '70s by Avv. Giuseppe Iannaccone, the Firm has been operating as a professional association since 2006, providing a thorough assistance that extends to the whole area - both civil and criminal - of corporate, commercial, bankruptcy, and banking law. The experience acquired in the areas mentioned, both in court and out, allows the Firm's professionals to offer its clients a specialized legal counsel that matches an in-depth treatment of the individual subjects with an overall, strategic vision. This has made Studio Legale Avv. Giuseppe Iannaccone e Associati a benchmark law firm for clients who require a complete and versatile legal support that encompasses multiple sectors of corporate law.

Bankruptcy law, bankruptcy proceedings and debt restructuring

The Firm has thirty years' experience in bankruptcy law and is considered a reference practice in the field of crisis counselling.

In particular, the Firm assists companies in identifying the best strategies that can work towards resolving their crisis situations, through debt-restructuring cases and/or in bankruptcy proceedings.

The Firm provides counselling also to creditors of companies in crisis that are often represented by important banking groups or investment funds.

Business criminal law

Together with the traditional areas of civil, commercial and bankruptcy law, in recent years, the Firm has increasingly focused on business criminal law (in its divisions of corporate criminal law, bankruptcy criminal law, and tax-and-finance criminal law). This choice is borne out by the creation of a department specifically dedicated to this line of work.

The thorough knowledge of criminal law, both substantive and procedural, as well as a multidisciplinary vision integrated with civil, commercial and bankruptcy law, allows the Firm to provide its clients with a comprehensive support that is ideal not only for addressing all stages of criminal proceedings, but also for anticipating - and thus avoiding or mitigating - the risk of such proceedings.

The value of this vision today is demonstrated by the involvement of the Firm in representing prestigious Italian and international clients in the most important national cases regarding business criminal law, bankruptcy law, and taxation, finance and banking.

Dispute resolution

The Firm provides assistance in civil disputes, mainly in the areas of the commercial, bankruptcy and corporate law.

This assistance is given at every stage and degree of the proceedings, before both the courts and/or arbitration tribunals.

The Firm has matured particular experience in corporate dispute resolution in general, and in the more specific areas that deal with liability actions brought by companies and/or bankruptcy proceedings against their own management and/or control bodies.

The Firm's lawyers, due also to their multi-disciplinary training and the overview deriving from it, can offer complete assistance also in the most complex disputes.

Corporate and commercial law

The Firm provides consulting services in operations of corporate and/or company acquisitions, counseling clients in all the necessary phases: implementation of possible due diligences, negotiation and drafting of contracts and agreements, coordination of the activities of all the subjects involved.

The Firm provides assistance to companies and private equity funds in identifying and creating strategies aimed at corporate restructuring or reorganization; management and control bodies in the most delicate phases of performing their functions; and to partners in negotiating shareholder agreements.

Banking and financial law

Over the years, the Firm has developed a consolidated knowledge of banking and finance law. The Firm's lawyers provide an assistance that takes in all aspects - both civil and criminal - that characterize the pathological stages of business.

She then developed her expertise in out-of-court issues, with particular regard to corporate acquisition operations, also in contexts of bankruptcy, debt restructuring, and insolvency management through recourse to crisis-settlement procedures.

Avv. Riccardo Lugaro

Partner

Riccardo Lugaro was born in Savona on 4 January 1975, Riccardo Lugaro began his legal career in contract and corporate law, gaining significant experience in the field, both in dispute resolution and out-of-court counselling. Starting in 2004 he began working with the law firm of Avv. Giuseppe Iannaccone where, while extending his expertise in bankruptcy and corporate law, he specialized in business criminal law. In particular, precisely the area of white-collar crimes has long been the focus of his professional work. He became a partner of the Law Firm in January 2014.

Avv. Silvia Morandi

Partner

Silvia Morandi was born in Milan on 17 May 1969, Silvia Morandi began her career at the law firm of Avv. Giuseppe Iannaccone and has continued since, becoming a partner in January 2014. Her experience was gained initially in dispute resolution, with particular reference to corporate, commercial and bankruptcy law. She then continued in areas of commercial criminal law, both in court and out, with particular regard to debt restructuring and operations of insolvency management through corporate settlement procedures.

Conferences and publications

The Firm organizes, and contributes to organizing, training and study meetings, seminars, and round tables in the areas of civil, bankruptcy, and criminal law.

The Firm's lawyers attend, as speakers, many conferences throughout Italy. Special attention has recently been afforded to the critical issues of criminal law regarding "voluntary disclosure" procedure in tax matters, to which have been dedicated numerous articles and in-depth speeches. Additional publications address the civil and criminal aspects of the most newsworthy cases of judicial reporting, in which the Firm's lawyers have played primary roles.
